There's a little dachshund I don't know how old it is it looks to be about two or three it has a collar on but it won't let me approach it it's running around until the area off of valley East and valley West and boulevards and it looks lost it's oh it's a male I see you know it's a male it might be a neutered male and he is looking desperately for his people he's now continuing down valley East boulevard it is 10:05 p.m.
