I found two cat collars in my backyard today. They are small, one has a small red bell on it, and the other has an ID tag on it with a PAWSCOUT name on one side and a computer code on it. There was no sign of any cats in the area. One collar is pink and the other is red. I'm trying to upload pictures of them, but I'm not sure they will upload. If these sound familiar to you and you want them back, let me know.
