Hansel has a tendency to run off at times.. I have a broken ankle and I was cleaning his food bowl out and he ran off. We were recently in a bad wreck in my truck and he has been stressed out. He hasn't been eating very well all the time and he has lost some weight. He is loved dearly by myself and all of his family members. He has a blue harness and a leather collar with a handle on it with a purple leash attached to the harness. I would be super grateful if anyone can Please help me with any information. A lot of people know and love him lots.
