She was let out of the apartment about three weeks ago. She looks totally black but she has a very, very small white spot on her throat/ in between her collar bones. Fixed No collar. No chip. She is sweet, but skittish and scares easily. Calm, mellow voice is your best bet if you do see her. Will not come if called by name, but loves to eat. I am moving soon and want her with me. I miss her badly. Please call even if you aren't 100% sure or if you have any info. Thank you so much for your help.
